Instructions

- Over the next 60 minutes, please use the knowledge you have gained in the last four days to develop this presentation, applying it to the context of Bangladesh.
- You are provided one slide per question. You may add a maximum of two additional slides. Not per question, but for your presentation overall.
- Please nominate two people who will present on your behalf.
- Before going for lunch, please save your presentation on your laptop. The WB team will transfer it to the main laptop so it can be projected on the main screen when you present.

Please have fun!

Q1: As Government of Bangladesh, how do I better understand my country's risks (e.g., flood, cyclone)?

Answers:

Prompts:

- Think about who to engage with and why
- Think about what kind of information you need to collect

Q2:

Could you share the key objective of developing a parametric insurance product? If you decided to develop this instrument, who would you need to engage in the context of Bangladesh?

Answers:

Prompts:

If you can, can you explain how this links to the priorities that were shared in your DRF strategy?

Q3: Based on the instrument selected, what are the key challenges / constraints that you may face to implement this in the context of Bangladesh?

Answers:

Q4:

You learned about three different country experiences today – Malawi (shock-responsive social protection), India (agriculture insurance), Pakistan (protecting MFIs). Pick one that is relevant to the context in Bangladesh and how can it be applied.

Answers:

Q5: Based on what you have learned in the last four days, what actions can Bangladesh take over the next three years to advance its DRF approach in the country?

Answers:

Year 1:

Year 2:

Year 3:

Prompts:

Please also list knowledge gaps that need to be addressed for you to achieve these goals.

Your 1-minute pitch – you don't need to write this down! Just present it!

If you have one minute with the Minister of Finance, what key message would you like to communicate to him or her on the importance of disaster risk finance and why they should care about it.

You can choose to be:

- A representative of your current Line Ministry.
- A junior-level representative from Ministry of Finance.

Remember to keep your message short and sharp – Ministers of Finance are very busy!
